Create user documentation for Cypht, with many screenshots

Description

An idea from Manassé, which Marc likes a lot.

<https://cypht.org> would be a lot nicer with plenty of screenshots. We have a few screenshots at <http://wikisuite.org/Cypht> but it should be better. Show all interfaces, show many themes, etc.

This will be a great learning project for one of new tech writer recruits 😊

Could be

- on the Github wiki: <https://github.com/jasonmunro/cypht/wiki>
- in Github pages
- or in a Tiki Wiki (to be discussed with Jason)

<https://standalone.cypht.dev1.evoludata.com/> could be used for the screenshots. And real data should be blurred out.

Thoughts?

Great start!

This is a great start, thanks for doing this! Some thoughts:

- the copy, especially the first paragraph, needs some grammatical corrections. The concepts are good but not proper English.
- The spacing between words varies quite a lot on different sections (look at the first line vs the last line in the "contact book" section)
- the header section looks like a webpage not a PDF - so if this is intended to be added to the website that is fine but if it is going to be a PDF I would remove the bits that look like links etc.
- I would consider removing the calendar section. It is not the most robust feature in Cypht:)

1. ok to remove calendar
2. I think we should start with a new page on <https://github.com/jasonmunro/cypht-website>, where it will be easy to modify going forward.

I wonder about the screenshots

If we should have nicer email addresses than wikisuite at gmail.com ;-)

Spin off
